History

Kilimanjaro is Nigeria's favorite and fastest growing restaurant chain.

Privately owned by Nigerians, its management is made up of a team of young and dynamic professionals with wide range of exposure and experience obtained from within and outside the food industry. From our humble beginnings with a single restaurant in Port Harcourt, the restaurant chain has spread to several other locations in Port Harcourt and Abuja with many more in the pipeline for other cities around the country.

"We aim to bring our unique and popular food and services closer to families around the country and someday, the African continent at large. We believe that every family has the right to the Kilimanjaro experience."

Kilimanjaro restaurants feature the highest quality food and beverage, offer competitively pricing and superior services in a comfortable atmosphere which guarantees a memorable experience to all our esteemed customers.

Many of our patrons can't imagine a world without Kilimanjaro in it.

Our great tasting food reminds you of the unique taste preference of the African people, bringing back nostalgic memories of earlier times when we looked forward to eating from our mother's pot.

Our tried and tested recipe for success consists of carefully selected food materials, spices and condiments of the highest quality, a passionate restaurant crew committed to satisfying your every need as well as an ambient family-oriented space for you to enjoy your meal over and over and over again....

We have been able to carve a niche in the restaurant space since inception. Our ultimate goal is to be a world class restaurant brand in Africa offering an unbeatable dining experience.

WORKING HERE

TRAINING & EDUCATION

the link 'training & education' would direct the visitor to the bottom part of the page - Kilimanjaro empowers You!

Working Here

"Unity in diversity" is our watchword.

"Service to humanity" is our passion.

We are a team of intricately diverse people drawn from several strata of the society and with background from several countries in Africa. We are truly "African".

We are ultimately attracted to people who have a passion for service. Internally, we use the slogan "we are friends servicing friends" and more often we have our ardent customers, friends and fans becoming our employees building a unique set of infinitesimally passionate people – people who are passionate about maintaining and improving on our service quality because, for all they know, it could be them on either side at any time in the future.

Our apprenticeship scheme provides opportunity for unskilled persons to garner the training and experience they require to progress to real jobs within and outside the company. The Kilimanjaro apprentice scheme is a 3 year program at the end of which participants get a certificate of proficiency in a particular field that boosts their chances of getting a great job within the industry. We aim to achieve national recognition/equivalency for this certificate in the near future.

"Perhaps you're waiting for admission into the university (i.e. in between secondary and tertiary school) and you need to learn a vocation or earn some pocket money OR you need to save up to buy an asset OR you need to build a rewarding career in an exciting and dynamic organization. Whatever the case, Kilimanjaro can help you live your dream."

Job Openings

We have a job that fits your personality trait. Whether you enjoy the fast paced customer facing restaurant job (where the action is) or the more cerebral formal corporate environment, Kilimanjaro is the place to be. Please click on whichever option interests you:

Corporate Social Responsibility

There's more to Kilimanjaro than just food. As part of our corporate objectives, we aim to impact on our immediate and larger community every day. We do this through the following schemes:

Community employment scheme – we are committed to providing employment and human capital development for communities in which we operate. We give priority to people from our host communities when hiring for a new restaurant. We provide appropriate training and skill development incentives to retain them within the larger system.

Community empowerment scheme – we strongly believe in the saying "teach a man to fish...". Majority of our suppliers are from our host communities. We encourage participation at this level by encouraging them to support our value chain system. We teach and support them to develop efficient logistical supply systems. Our hopes and aspirations is to build world class businesses from subsistence suppliers of goods and services so that we can 'beat our chests' and take some credit for their individual and collective successes.

Welfare and public sector support initiatives – where the opportunity presents itself we are willing to support noble welfare programs and public sector initiatives aimed at supporting causes to humanity. We currently provide ongoing support to the Old People's Home in Port Harcourt and we are currently exploring opportunities to partner with the government at the local, state or national level on any available people centric projects that meet our criteria.

We pay our taxes – in a society fraught with bad leadership and little incentive to pay taxes, Kilimanjaro has taken a stand to lead the way by paying its taxes. We believe that this gives us a bigger incentive and impetus to demand results from our leadership and the government at large. As one of the largest collectors and remitters of VAT and PIT, we support the efforts of the government at improving infrastructure, security, improving health and providing welfare to the people.

Kilimanjaro and the environment – our operational policies and practices are designed to ensure minimal or zero impact on the environment. From recyclable and/or reusable packaging to environmentally safe waste disposal practices, Kilimanjaro cares about your environment because we believe that our service to our customers doesn't just stop at our restaurants but extends throughout their lives.

An advertisement for Kilimanjaro Taste of Africa. It features a large yellow outline of the African continent. Overlaid on the continent are four red-bordered images: a smiling waitress holding a plate of food, the interior of a modern restaurant with yellow walls and tables, the exterior of a building with a red roof and "kilimanjaro" sign, and a close-up of a dish of food. The Kilimanjaro logo with the tagline "Taste of Africa™" is in the bottom right corner.

A festive promotional banner for KilimanjarO. The background features a red and white patterned design with falling snowflakes. At the top left is a yellow speech bubble containing the kilimanjarO logo and the text "Ho! Ho! Ho!". The main text "Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year" is written in large green letters. Below it, "From The Home of Great Taste." is written in smaller green text. A black silhouette of a mountain range is visible at the bottom. On the left, there's a shopping cart icon with the text "buy ≥ N1,500". On the right, there's an image of an ice cream cone with the word "Free!" next to it. Text in the center reads: "Make purchases up to N2000 and get a free cone of Ice Cream. Offer valid from 20th December to 16th January." Social media links for Facebook and YouTube are at the bottom left, and a "Facebook.com" watermark is on the left side of the banner.
